A spacious Billiard Room, with one of Thurston's best tables.

Besides the above advantages, Visitors can have the privilege of the Tea Gardens and Promenade. 9891

TO FREEMASONS.

MANY years have elapsed since the establishment of Freemasonry in this colony, and yet the Craft remains without an Institution worthy of its high calling—without even a suitable place for the ordinary meetings and business of the several Lodges.

The inconvenience and the injury arising from this state of things it is unnecessary to dwell upon. Every brother who has been, for a short time only, in any of our assemblies, must have had ample proof of them, and brethren who have come amongst us from other countries, where a different condition obtains, cannot forbear expressing their surprise.

Now, when this portion of the globe has so unexpectedly but providentially become "the cynosure of neighbouring eyes"—when the eyes of the world are literally upon us, and when we may expect a great influx of brethren from all quarters, it must be acknowledged that the time has arrived to throw from us this reproach, and to erect a temple worthy of the high order to which we belong.

Talent, energy, wealth, are not wanting to produce an edifice to which every worthy Mason may point with pride and pleasure, and to which, as to the "Star in the East," every [illegible], from whatever country he may come, may unerringly direct his steps.

No argument is necessary to prove that the immediate effect of such a measure will be the promotion of the interests, and the advancement of the respectability and the welfare of our order, while,—last though not least,—its ultimate result must be one in which every good Mason will rejoice—the Consolidation of the Craft in the Colony.

These considerations having pressed strongly on the minds of many of the brethren, a preliminary meeting of the Masters, Past Masters, and Wardens, of Lodges 266, 548, 267, 814, and 843, was convened.

At this meeting the proposal was unanimously approved of, and a provisional committee was appointed to consider the best means of carrying it out.

After due deliberation the provisional committee decided on convening a general meeting of the craft, at which it was unanimously agreed that the object was a highly desirable one, and that the site proposed by the Committee was the most eligible one that could have been selected, and that a company should be formed, with a capital of £10,000, in shares of £5 each, and a Managing Committee was elected to take immediate measures for the formation of the proposed Company, for buying the site suggested, issuing a prospectus, and for taking such other steps as might appear desirable for effecting the object in view.

It is therefore proposed to erect an edifice, which, while it gives suitable accommodation for the objects of the Order, shall also prove a source of substantial profit to the Share holders.

To this Institution it is proposed to attach a school for the children of Masons, and so to dispose of the income arising from the establishment, as, after paying a handsome dividend to the proprietary, shall result in the erection of an Asylum for old and decayed Masons, who, after devoting their best years to the interests of the Order, but who, "from unavoidable circumstances of calamity and misfortune," shall have been reduced to "poverty and distress," shall find a shelter for the remaining term of their existence, free from the cares and anxieties of the world, and where "Peace, love, and harmony" shall have an abiding place.

That such may be the result of their labours, the committee most earnestly pray that the grand Geometrician of the universe may bless and prosper the undertaking, and that such an institution may arise, in this, the chief city of the southern hemisphere, so that "the honour, the glory, and the reputation of the craft may be firmly established, and the world at large convinced of its good effects."

PROSPECTUS.

The Australasian Freemasons' Hall.

Capital, £10,000 Sterling, in 2000 Shares of £5 each, with power to increase the capital, if necessary.

Deposit, 25s. per Share.

At a General Meeting of the Craft it was unanimously resolved that the time had arrived to carry out the proposed object, and the following brethren were elected a committee of management for this purpose, viz.:—

Brother JOHN WILLIAMS, D.P.G.M., Chairman,
" Sir Osborne Gibbs, Bart., W.M., 843
" J. Murphy, W.M., 267

GENERAL ASSAY OFFICE,

510, George-street.

THE public have been advised from time to time by all means to have their gold melted and cast into ingots, and assayed, or not, as they judge advisable. Now it has always struck me that these offices of refiner and assayer ought, for credit's sake, to be perfectly separate and independent of each other—as however honourable a party may be, it cannot be overlooked that the possibility of alloying gold with a greater or less proportion of silver or other metal is a very great temptation, and in order to ensure greater protection the gold should be assayed twice—once before, and once after melting. Lest the additional expense should deter the public from using these obviously necessary precautions, I undertake to perform two assays—one on the raw material, and one on the refined—for one fee.

BETHEL CHURCH AND WHARF.

The splendid Freehold Property in Darling Harbour, so well known as the Bethel Chapel, together with the adjoining Waterside Premises, known as Williams' Coal Wharf.

For absolute sale, in one Lot.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions from the Trustees of the Bethel Union, under authority of a special Act of Council, to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, on TUESDAY, the 5th April, at 12 o'clock precisely,

That Magnificent Central Waterside Property, situate at the foot of Erskine-street, (to which it has a large frontage) upon which is erected that substantial stone built edifice known as the Mariner's Church; together with the extensive wharf and out-buildings adjoining the same, now in the occupation of Mr. J. C. Williams, as a Coal Depôt, and described in Deeds, as all that piece or parcel of land, containing fifteen and a half perches. Allotment number 14, of section number 55; bounded on the south by a line bearing east 15·30·, north 121 links; on the east by allotment No. 15, bearing west 15·30, west 76 links; on the north by Erskine-street, bearing west 15 30, south 136 links, and on the west by Darling Harbour.

In bringing this valuable Property before the public, the auctioneers feel that no representation on their part is needed, to point out the immense advantages it possesses, or the impossibility in the present day of procuring a spot like it for any money. Its position is the most central and naturally advantageous that could be desired, having easy access to the very centre of the city, and sufficient depth of water at the extremity of the wharf for a vessel of 500 tons to discharge.

The Building at present used as the Chapel, is a very large and substantial edifice, built of stone, in excellent order, and capable, at a very moderate expense, of being converted into a Dwelling-house, or Store and Office. The dimensions are 24½ x 50 feet, with a height of about 30 feet. The wharf adjoining the above has a frontage to Erskine street, and to the waters of Darling Harbour, with the right, on application, of carrying out a jetty if required, similar to that of the Flour Company or Steam Navigation Company's Wharfs.

For the use of any New Steam Company, or for a mercantile House requiring central and commodious waterside premises—a better spot it would be impossible to select. The New Cut of Wynyard-street, across the Barrack-square, brings it within three minutes' walk of the Post Office and Banks, and on the erection of the New Post Office in York-street, this property being within a few hundred yards distance, must be immensely enhanced in value

Any capitalist seeking secure and profitable investment would do well to watch this sale, for though at present the Wharf is let but at £120 per annum, yet as immediate possession will be given to the purchaser, three times that amount may be confidently relied on.

Title, being a sale under authority of a special Act of Council, is unquestionable.

Further particulars can be ascertained on application to the Auctioneer; or the offices of Messrs. Allen and Son, solicitors, Elizabeth-street.

Terms—25 per cent. deposit; the remainder at three, six, nine, and twelve months, WITHOUT INTEREST. 8588

SHANTER COTTAGE, SURRY HILLS,

Beautifully situated at the corner of Devonshire and Marlborough streets, a little above Crown-street, and near to the Vine Cottage, commanding a splendid and extensive view of the south-east portion of the city, and the country around, overlooking Baptist's garden, Thurlow's Terrace, and other extensive and valuable properties, being one of the most healthy situations in the city.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, on THURSDAY, the 7th April, at 11 o'clock,

All that piece or parcel of land situated on the Surry Hills, having a frontage of 22 feet to Devonshire-street, by a depth of 66 feet 9 inches on Marlborough-street, with an additional piece in the rear, on which is erected a substantial and well-built house, known as containing 4 rooms, built of stone, having a picked ashlar front, finished with Venetian blinds.

A plot of garden ground, with trees and shrubs is in front of the cottage. In the rear is a brick-built kitchen, fitted with a range, and close at hand is a never-failing well of excellent water.

The walls of the cottage are painted throughout; one of front rooms, used as a parlour, is finished with corniced ceiling and centre-piece. The whole are in excellent condition, and well fitted for the comfortable accommodation of a small family.

To the inspection of this snug little freehold the Auctioneers beg to invite all who may be in search of a profitable investment, or a pleasant and healthy residence.

The title may be inspected, and further particulars obtained by applying at the Auction Mart.

SHIPS' MAILS.

Mails will close at the Post Office, as follow:—

For London.—By the Prince of Wales, to-morrow evening, at 6; by the Cambodia and Mary Bannatyne, on Saturday evening, at 6.

For India and England (overland).—By the P. and O. Company's steamer Chusan, on Saturday, at half-past 11 o'clock.

For Singapore.—By the Royal Saxon, this evening, at 6.

Custom House.—Entered outwards: March 29. Marmora, schooner, 135 tons, Peacock, for New Zealand; Enveloppe barque, 400 tons, Smith, for San Francisco; Gazelle, brig, 230 tons, Bennett, for Adelaide; British Isles, barque, 245 tons, Agnew, for Guam via Newcastle.

Late letters by the Chusan will be received at the Post Office on Saturday until 12 o'clock, on paying the additional sum of sixpence on each letter.

By the overland mail from Melbourne we learn that the General Palmer arrived there on the 21st instant from Hong Kong. Cargo: 9136 packages tea, 33 cases 41 packages cigars, 490 cases Chinese preserves. Same day the Baron Brunah, from Rio Janeiro, with 1000 bags coffee, and 1000 bags flour. These cargoes were to be offered at auction.

The Bella Vista was at the Bar, and the Zone was going up when the Palermo left. The following is the cargo of the Palermo: 15,000 feet pine boards, 355 cheeses, 35 bales wool, 1 bale 2 bundles, and 300 loose sheepskins, 15 kegs whitelead, 116 hides, 72 calf skins, 4 casks tallow, 3 casks sugar, 5310 staves, 6 cases sundries, 1 carriage, 8 store doors. The Brothers and Acacia were loading for Sydney.

The Chieftain arrived yesterday, and was chartered to look for the French missionary schooner Etoile du Matin, which left Balade June 21st for Tucopir, and has not since been heard of. Upon the arrival of the Chieftain at Tucopir nothing could be learned of the missing vessel, but the natives reported that two missionaries had left that place about two months since (which would be about January 10th) in a two-masted vessel: Captain Verney made every inquiry after her, but without success, and then returned to Balade. Three months ago it was reported in the Herald that an American schooner had picked up a foremast off Tucopir, made of kauri, and Captain V. thinks it probable it belonged to the Etoile du Matin, and that she must have foundered at sea.

The report of the Herculean being on the Bar at Wide Bay, was an error. She was at anchor inside when the Tom Tough left on the 23rd instant.

In consequence of the Easter holidays, the P. and O. Company's steamer Chusan will be detained until Saturday, when she will sail at 2 p.m.

The Vriendschaap, Cornelius Houtman, Anna, Foster, and Gazelle, were at anchor at the Heads yesterday evening.

WHITE, THE MAIL ROBBER.

During the late Bathurst Assizes, two men, of the name of Hudson and Goodwin, were tried for robbing the Bathurst and Sydney mail of a large quantity of gold, on the morning of the 17th of August last, and a person named Morgan was put upon his trial for receiving the stolen gold. In the former case the prisoners were convicted; in the latter, the jury, being unable to agree, were discharged without giving a verdict, and the cases were reported at length in our impressions of the 7th and 10th of the present month. The principal witness in both cases was the accomplice William White. This man had been employed for years in driving the mail from Bathurst to Hartley, more recently he was connected with the Bathurst and Turon mail, and his reputation as a steady coachman and an honest man were up to the time of the mail robbery, of a first-rate character. The desire of acquiring property by plunder seems to have seized him; and he, Hudson and Goodwin, were engaged in as impudent and as barefaced a robbery as ever we recollect having read or heard of. According to White's evidence, he and Hudson planned the robbery three or four weeks before it took place. On the morning of the robbery White and Goodwin, by arrangement with Hudson, met him and a Chinaman by whom he was accompanied, at the edge of the Bathurst Plains. In consequence of the badness of the roads, the mails at the time were conveyed on horseback, and whilst Goodwin seized the horse of the Chinaman, it was arranged that White should throw Hudson off his horse, which carried the mails, and which was done. White then took Hudson's horse into the bush, removed the mail bags, opened them, and took out notes and cash to the value of £107 and about two hundred ounces of gold dust. The gold was planted at the time, but a few days after White and Goodwin brought the gold and notes into Bathurst, and sold the gold to Morgan for between £500 and £600. White contrived to secure his share of the proceeds of the gold, and Goodwin his, whilst Hudson received only £100, with a promise from White of the balance. Only a portion of the notes stolen from the mail were appropriated by White and Goodwin, and here again these honest thieves neglected the interests of Hudson. The robbery at the time excited the greatest interest in Bathurst, and for a few days after there was no clue to lead to its detection: at length the fact of a female with whom White cohabited having applied the epithet of "mail robber" to him becoming known to the police, led to the apprehension eventually of all who were concerned in the felony. It is quite clear, from the report of the case, and the active part that White took in the robbery, that he was as deeply guilty as any of the gang; in fact, the reasonable presumption is, that though a mail robbery may have been concocted by him and Hudson some weeks before, yet that on the night preceding the robbery, as he saw the Sofala mail bags which contained the gold at the punt-house, and probably handled them, he gave information to Hudson and Goodwin that the mail should be stopped and plundered on the following day. Finding himself in jeopardy, White was not in custody many days when he volunteered a statement of the way in which the robbery took place and the part the three took in it. And as frequently happens, so in this case, the greatest scoundrel had the fortune to have the clemency of the Crown extended to him on account of the evidence he gave to assist in the conviction of Hudson and Goodwin. "It is true," he said, on his cross-examination, "I am giving evidence from remorse of conscience and for the public good." A plausible excuse, certainly, but which did not escape the shrewdness of the prisoner's counsel, for White afterwards said "Hudson had said something about me, and I was determined to pay him off by saying something against him; that was the other bit of consideration that induced me to be an approver." Hudson received a good character from his master, who stated that previous to the robbery he had been entrusted with gold to the extent of one hundred and fifty pounds weight at a time, and had left Bathurst with such a quantity alone, and that it arrived safe at its destination. Goodwin also received a high character for honesty from persons who had known him for a number of years.

The subsequent career of White from his discharge from gaol to the present time calls for especial notice. In the Bathurst Free Press of the 19th instant, we find under gaol delivery the following paragraph:—

"A short discussion took place between His Honour and the Solicitor-General, relative to the discharge of William White, the approver in the mail robbery, in the course of which the latter stated that he did not purpose putting him on his trial. His Honor remarked that the most judicious course would be to grant the prisoner a pardon on condition of his leaving the colony, but it was ultimately decided to discharge him without any restriction. He was accordingly discharged, and is now employed driving Mr. Rotton's coach."

When we saw this notice, we could scarcely believe it, and we have taken some pains to find out whether White is or is not employed by Mr. Rotton, and we have ascertained that on Wednesday, the 9th instant, White was discharged from gaol, on the following day he succeeded in getting employment to drive Mr. Rotton's coach from Bathurst to Hartley, and on the Friday morning, not thirty-six hours after he left his quarters at the gaol, he resumed his seat on the box, and made his first journey to Hartley, and that since then he has been constantly driving Mr. Rotton's coach. This is certainly patronising criminals to an unheard of extent. Mr. Rotton has probably great difficulty in procuring good and competent drivers; but, as the proprietor of a public conveyance, he has no business to place his passengers and their property under the control, management, and at the tender mercies of one of the most audacious, reckless, and skilful thieves that ever appeared at the bar of a criminal tribunal. Mr. Rotton must be aware that so indignant and disgusted are the horsekeepers on the road at this exercise of his patronage, that they have refused to harness the horses which White drives, and in one or more instances the horsekeeper has resigned from the same cause. Neither can Mr. Rotton be ignorant of the fact that Toy, who used to drive his coach from Bathurst to Hartley, has resigned in consequence of White's appointment. Mr. Rotton may think that he has a right to employ whom he thinks proper to drive his coach. Such right no doubt he unquestionably possesses, but if Mr. Rotton sets public decency and public feeling at defiance, by adopting such an extraordinary course,—if he be attempting to patch up White's character, which White himself admitted not a month ago was as bad as it could possibly be, it is but just that the public should be made acquainted with the fact, and that they should know that in making a journey to Bathurst they will enjoy the honour of being driven by one of the greatest ruffians in New South Wales. Mr. Rotton may plead necessity as a reason for engaging White, but looking at the engagement in a moral point of view, it certainly is holding out to an active, ingenious, and impudent thief, a premium to robbery, and to becoming an approver afterwards with the prospect of obtaining speedy employment when liberated from gaol. If property should be missed whilst under White's charge, Mr. Rotton will be unable at least to say that it was committed to the charge of an honest and upright coachman, and for employing such a man he will undoubtedly be held responsible.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.—Tuesday.

Equity Jurisdiction.

Before Mr. Justice Therry, Primary Judge.

RANKIN v. HEATHORN.

His Honor gave judgment herein, upon the question of costs argued before them on a former day by Mr. Broadhurst on behalf of the plaintiff, and Mr. Fisher on behalf of the defendant. His Honor stated that the rule respecting costs was somewhat different in cases at law and in equity. At law, if a plaintiff recovered a verdict for an amount even far below the sum claimed by him, whether as debt or damages the verdict carried costs. This rule, however, in Equity was subject to some exceptions, the nature of which is thus briefly expounded in Lord Cottenham's judgment in Mettington v. — 3 M. and C. 352, where his Lordship recognizes as a general rule to make costs follow the result, yet adds "there is another object which the Court must keep in view to repress unnecessary litigation within those bounds which are essential to enable the parties to vindicate and establish their rights. In that case, the defendant had written to the plaintiffs a letter offering terms which would have rendered the suit unnecessary, which letter his Lordship held as to costs at least rendered it incumbent on the plaintiffs to put to the test, whether the defendants were sincere in their offer, and not to go with the suit unless they found they were insincere." And again, as to costs in Meader v. M'Cready, 1st Molloy 120, Lord Chancellor Hart adopts a similar rule for governing his judgment, which is one of discretion. "As to costs," said His Lordship, "a letter written after the filing of the bill as well as the answer may be looked to on the question of costs. If the defendant writes a letter offering to submit to arbitration, and to pay the sum which should appear to be due, that would weigh with the Court on the question of costs, although the defendant had previously denied that anything was due." I think, I can consistently with the rules of the Court, look at such a letter. I think it comes within the description of proper conduct upon which Lord Eldon says "the determination of costs in equity depends." Now, in regarding the conduct of the parties with a view to costs, I find that on the 6th of May, 1850, almost immediately after the expiration of the partnership by effluxion of time, the defendant writes to Mr. M'Intosh, the solicitor of the plaintiff, in which he states, "I repeat what I offered in my letter of the 14th instant, viz., to go through the accounts with any party your client Mr. Rankin may appoint, and I now add that I am ready and willing to pay whatever there may be due to him on the final settlement of the affair." He moreover states in his answer, that he repeatedly offered to come to a settlement of the accounts, and to hand over to the plaintiff what on the taking of them should be due. Now, these were proposals that if they had been entertained might have rendered the protracted litigation that has taken place altogether unnecessary. At least, the sincerity and bona fide spirit in which they were offered should have been settled before proceedings were commenced—proceedings, too, which in looking back to the history of the case, were initiated in a very hostile spirit, for the first step taken was the application of a writ of ne exeat colonia, whereupon the defendant was arrested on an alleged debt of £500; although the result, as shown by the Master's report is that the plaintiff could not justly claim a debt even half that amount. Moreover the defendant was arrested at a time when it was impossible for either the plaintiff or defendant to know the amount of their respective interests in the partnership concern, as many outstanding debts had still to be collected, and much would depend upon whether these debts would turn out to be good or bad debts. This circumstance, too, suggests a consideration which, in guiding the discretion of the Court as to costs, should not be lost sight of, that in Equity the principle, as sustained in the case of the Attorney-General v. Brewer's Co., 1 P. W. 375, prevails, that costs do not follow the event of the cause, as where money was found due upon account, it appeared to be much less than claimed; in that case the party in whose favour the balance was found was allowed no costs. The ground of refusal in such cases is the inequitable conduct of over-charging a party a much larger sum than really is due. Again, looking to the charges contained in the plaintiff's bill, I find amongst them a charge against the defendant of applying to his own use the receipts and profits of the partnership concern; and, in order to conceal the same, omitting and refusing to render an account, of the partnership business, and to come to a fair and proper statement and settlement of the accounts; and to hand over to the plaintiff on the taking of such accounts what should appear to be due to the plaintiff. And there is a further charge of his threatening and intending to keep and dispose of for his own benefit, large sums of money belonging to the partnership received by them. In these passages of the bill, the word fraud is not expressly used, but if the imputation of refusing accounts in order to conceal the application of the receipts of the partnership concern to his own use, and the further charge of intending to keep and dispose of such receipts for his own benefit, be not an imputation of grossly fraudulent conduct, I am at a loss to know in what language such conduct can be more clearly and unmistakeably imputed. Now I cannot discover from the Master's Report or from the evidence that such charges are sustained against this defendant. So far from concealment, the books and accounts, though the defendant was the manager who kept them, were open to the inspection of the plaintiff and his son, and a very vigilant supervision over them appears to have been exercised. In a very long and searching inquiry the defendant evinces no hesitation in giving the fullest information, and it is impossible to look into his evidence without being struck with the accuracy with which the minutest matters of account have been noted down and accounted for by him.

It is manifest that almost immediately after the formation of the partnership, mutual dissatisfaction speedily sprang up between the partners. Their correspondence—and the acrimonious taunts it contains furnish evidence of this—and account for many claims made by both parties for allowances which the Master has, I think, very properly disallowed. Mr. Heathorne's claim for a salary for management was not warranted by the agreement; but on the other hand many things which the agreement required that Mr. Rankin's should perform were not duly executed by him. In cases of disputed account—in which each party is eager to charge his adversary with not only all that he is strictly entitled to, but with all that he entertains even in a remote conception he can possibly claim,—some indulgence is due on the score of excited zeal to the claims of both parties. The present case is not exempt from extravagant pretensions on both sides in this respect—but such pretensions may be allowed to balance one another. I will only add that upon the whole I am of opinion that this case comes under the class of cases contemplated by Lord Cottenham, and confirmed by the judgment of Lord Chancellor Hart, that where unnecessary litigation is provoked—and when the defendant evinces a disposition to account, and his conduct is free from the imputation of fraud of any kind, as I think the conduct of this defendant is shown to be—the rule should be such as I now direct—that each party pay his own costs.—The case as to the restraining either party from further proceedings has not been sufficiently argued before me to enable me to give any directions on the point; but I venture to suggest to both these litigants that each, if not in mercy to his adversary (of the existence of which these whole proceedings afford no very pregnant evidence) yet that each in mercy to himself might not wisely abstaining from further litigation.

CUMMINGS v. SCHOFIELD.

This was an action for trespass by defendant upon plaintiff's farm of 600 acres, at Clear Creek, in the county of Roxburgh. Defendant pleaded not guilty, and denied the plaintiff's possession. Upon both these pleas issue was joined.

Counsel for plaintiff, Messrs. Broadhurst and Throsby; attorneys, Messrs. Johnson and Johnson. Counsel for defendant, Messrs. Foster and Darvall; attorneys, Messrs. Thurlow, Dick, and Brown.

The case for the plaintiff rested upon his own evidence. He obtained possession in 1850, from one Falvey, the then occupier of the farm, as tenant of Mr. William Bowman, of Richmond, the owner of the land. The possession thus acquired he maintained for about fourteen months, cultivating a small portion, and running his sheep and cattle on the remainder. At the end of that period defendant took possession—which he has retained ever since.

On the other hand it appeared that Falvey, being a tenant for seven years, expiring on the 1st of May, 1851, had distinctly intimated to Mr. Bowman that he did not intend to retain possession beyond the expiration of this term, in consequence of which intimation the farm was leased to defendant by the agent of Mr. Bowman, with the authority and concurrence of his principal.

The whole question turned upon the sufficiency of the plaintiff's title. Notwithstanding the evidence already alluded to of the plaintiff having obtained possession through Falvey only, and of Falvey's term having expired, it was contended that plaintiff was entitled to maintain possession against Schofield. It appeared that Falvey held his seven years' lease by a mere parole agreement. Now it was contended that this lease would be void by operation of the statute of fraud, and instead of it a tenancy from year to year would by implication of law be created. A tenancy such as this could not, it was argued, be terminated by Falvey without regular notice, &c., after he (Falvey) had parted with his interest to the plaintiff.

His Honor held that the creation of a tenancy from year to year under such circumstances as those which distinguished the present case depended upon a mere inference of law, which might be rebutted by evidence of facts. And there was here evidence of this nature in what had been stated as to the actings and sayings of the landlord and tenant. The holding of Falvey was, according to the evidence, brought to a termination prior to the lease from Mr. Bowman to defendant, under which the latter claimed to occupy. The learned Judge directed the Jury, in accordance with this ruling; but, at the request of plaintiff's counsel, desired them, if they should find for defendant, to assess damages contingently, so that in the event of his ruling being considered wrong by the full Court, the error might be remedied without the expense of another trial. The first issue, as to whether or not any trespass had been committed, must be found for the plaintiff. The second issue, as to the sufficiency of plaintiff's title on the one hand, and on the other the right of defendant to enter upon the land, was the material one.

The Jury, after about twenty minutes' consultation, found a verdict for plaintiff, on the first issue, and for defendant on the second. They did not seem to understand what was required of them as to the assessment of contingent damages; but after some further explanations upon this point, they again retired, and on their return intimated that they estimated these contingent damages at £25.

Before the Chief Justice and a Jury of four.

WILSON v. WILLIAMS.

This was an action for trespass by assault and battery on the 2nd of February last, on board the ship William Prowse, then on a voyage from Madras to Sydney. The defendant admitted the assault, but pleaded that he was justified by plaintiff's misconduct in acting as he had done, for the maintenance of his position and authority as master of the vessel; the plaintiff, who was a passenger by the vessel, and under obligation so to act as to maintain the defendant's authority, having behaved in a most insolent and offensive manner. Plaintiff replied de injuria, and alleged greater violence than was necessary for the purpose mentioned in the plea. Upon this point issue was joined.

Counsel for plaintiff the Attorney-General and Mr. Stephen; attorney, Mr. Little. Counsel for defendant, Messrs. Foster and Darvall; attorneys, Messrs. Dunsmore and Stafford.

The assault was committed within a fortnight before the arrival of the vessel in Sydney. The plaintiff, who was a second-class passenger, became dissatisfied with the fare, and it was out of the squabbling which had resulted from this dissatisfaction that this assault had arisen. There was a mess of first-class passengers, who had paid £70 for their passage, while those of the second-class paid but £20. There was considerable difference in the fare of the two messes; many heart-burnings arose from this. On the day named in the declaration, the steward had refused to give the plaintiff a second glass of ale, whereupon plaintiff went on deck and complained to the defendant of the refusal; the defendant replied that one glass was enough, and plaintiff rejoined by stigmatising the other as a "dirty, low, mean fellow." They separated for a short time, but soon afterwards, while plaintiff was speaking to a fellow-passenger, the captain came up, and a few more sharp words passed. There were two seamen on the poop besides the man at the wheel, and defendant issued an order to have plaintiff turned off the deck. Before it could be executed, however, defendant seized hold of plaintiff himself, and forced him off the poop to the deck below, loosening by force the plaintiff's hold upon the poop-rail. The captain was aided by the chief officer, who came out of the cuddy while the scuffle was going on, and, catching hold of plaintiff, pulled him down the remainder of the ladder after he had been forced half-way down by the captain. There was evidence that, prior to laying hold of plaintiff the captain had ordered him to leave the poop, and that he had refused to do so. There was evidence also that the captain had assigned the running short of liquor as a reason why plaintiff could not have a second glass; and that, in the first instance, the captain had shown no intention whatever of resenting by any violence the insult which plaintiff had cast upon him.

His Honor told the Jury that the first question for their determination was, whether or not there had been any such conduct on the part of the plaintiff as the defendant relied upon to maintain his plea of justification. In other words, whether the plaintiff behaved in such a manner as, if unchecked, to lower the authority of the captain on board; and whether the assault was committed with the honest intention of maintaining this authority and preserving decorum. If these facts were found in the affirmation, the defendant would be entitled to a verdict upon the first issue; but in the event of the plea being held sufficient in the court above, he would ask the Jury to assess contingent damages in the event of their thus finding. The second issue was, whether, even assuming the plaintiff to have acted as he had been said to act, more violence had been used than was necessary. If so, the plaintiff would be entitled to damages proportionate to the excess.

The Jury found for the defendant upon both issues and assessed contingent damages at one farthing.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

Regulæ Generales.

Summonses in Chambers.

1. Every summons to show cause, shall state the grounds of the application, or the points intended to be relied on; and where an amendment is required, the nature of such amendment (or, if any irregularity is complained of, the particular irregularity), shall be specified.

Proviso Prac. 175, 176.

2. Provided that, where the grounds or points necessarily appear on the face of the summons, or are stated in some affidavit or affidavits, thereby referred to as containing them (and of which, in such case, a copy shall be served with the summons), no further specification shall be necessary.

Rule Nisi and Notices.

3. These rules shall be equally in force, with respect to notices of motion and rules nisi. Provided that the Court may, in any case, in granting any such rule, dispense with the service, or give further time for the service, of the affidavits, in its discretion.

Former Rule repealed.

4. After the publication hereof, the two Rules made in this behalf in the year 1841 shall be repealed.

ALFRED STEPHEN,
J. N. DICKINSON,
R. THERRY.

In the Supreme Court of New South Wales. Thursday, the 28th day of March, 1853.

Papers at Nisi Prius.

It is ordered that no other papers in a cause shall hereafter be given in charge to the Clerk of Nisi Prius, except the pleadings and particulars filed therein: or where there are amended pleadings, or particulars, then such amended pleadings or particulars only.

2. The parties or either of them may have any other papers produced, by leaving with the Prothonotary a memorandum specifying them.

3. The Clerk of the Court will be held responsible, that the pleadings and particulars, together with such other papers (if any), and all exhibits left with him, shall be given to the Prothonotary, on the day next after the trial; or, in cases tried on circuit, the day after the next Judge's return to Sydney.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

INSOLVENT COURT.

Tuesday.

Before S. F. Milford, Esq., Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates.

In the estate of George Robert Bartlett, a single meeting. Debts amounting to £36 9s. 7d. were proved, the insolvent was examined, and the meeting terminated.

MEETING TO MORROW.

In the estate of William Farrell, a single meeting, at 11 o'clock.

YESTERDAY'S RECEIPT OF GOLD.

The Sydney Gold Escort Company's Escort arrived yesterday at the offices, in George-street, and delivered the following quantities of gold:—

	Ozs.	dwts.	grs.
From the Ovens	7,018	15	0
Albury	1,130	13	0
Gundagai	328	6	0
Yass	86	10	0
	8,564	4	0

The consignments being in almost every case directed to "order," we are unable to give the names of the consignees.

The cash brought down by the escort was—from the Ovens, £6166; Albury, £483; Gundagai, £915; Yass, £605; total, £8169.

The above amounts of gold dust and cash were deposited in the Australian Joint Stock Bank, where (we are requested to state) the Secretary of the Sydney Gold Escort Company will be in attendance to deliver, at the time notified in the advertisement which appears in another column. The Directors intend to despatch another escort to the Ovens on Tuesday next. We consider that we may now congratulate the company upon the almost perfect organization of their arrangements; and upon the punctuality and zeal of their officers. A letter from their agent, dated the 22nd instant, advises them of 6000 ounces of gold being then in his hands for transmission by the next escort.

Election of Churchwardens.—Yesterday being Easter Tuesday, meetings were held in pursuance of the Church of England Temporalities' Act, for the election of Churchwardens and auditing the yearly accounts. The following gentlemen were elected in the Sydney parishes: Trinity—Messrs. F. Ebsworth, J. W. Janes, and J. B. Vyles; St. Philips—Messrs. W. Ford, F. Mitchell, and W. S. Moutry; St. James'—Messrs. H. H. Browne, C. Martyn, and C. Kemp; St. Andrew's Messrs. A. Maxwell, James Barker, and James Powell; Christ Church—Messrs. M. Metcalfe, T. Woolley, and E. Blacket.

New Boat Wharf.—A few weeks since a person taking a boat from the foot of Margaret-place, experienced the greatest difficulty in evading the logs of wood, blocks of stone, and heaps of filth, better imagined than described, ere he could put his foot in the wherry. Having been in the dilemma more than once, we can appreciate the improvement which has been made by the Corporation at this place, a commodious stair having been erected for the public accommodation. A few instances like this of attention to the wants and wishes of their constituents will do much to remove the feeling of indifference, if not of contempt, with which our municipal body has been so long viewed by the bulk of the citizens.

Embezzlement.—Robert Brimley Gee, lately bookkeeper, cashier, &c., in the employ of Mr. Giblett, George-street, tanner, was yesterday brought before the Bench charged with having embezzled the sum of £12 0s. 8d., of the moneys of John Giblett. From the evidence of Mr. E. Rofe, it appeared that on the 26th of March, last year, the prisoner presented him with an account for leather supplied by Mr. Giblett, which he then paid, amounting to £12 0s. 8d., and for which he took prisoner's receipt. The receipt was produced. Mr. Giblett deposed that he had lately discovered that the payment in question had been made, but could find no entry thereof in prisoner's books; he had called upon him to account for it, which he had neglected to do; he said that Mr. Rofe's account had been settled, and searched the book, but could find no entry of the transaction. Committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions, and allowed bail for his appearance.

Assault with intent to rob.—Harry Falcoe was yesterday committed to take his trial for having assaulted with intent to rob a Mrs. Canny. In cross-examination prosecutrix admitted that she held a sum of money belonging to the prisoner, who was a lodger in her house. Prisoner, who spoke with a foreign accent, declared that he had no desire to rob the woman, but merely endeavoured to regain possession of his own money.

Stealing a Cheque.—George White and John Johnson were on Monday apprehended by Inspector Higgins, as accessories to the stealing of a cheque for £411 18s. 10d., for which a man named Smith and a female named Wall were on Saturday apprehended, the former for stealing and the latter as accessary. White and Jones were yesterday brought before Mr. Dowling, when, after taking the evidence of Mr. Higgins, Johnson (who was defended by Mr. Nichols) was discharged from custody. White was remanded until to-day, when he will be arraigned with Smith and Wall.

Assaults.—There was the usual complement of charges of assault upon yesterday's business paper at the Police Office, of which however the following, heard before Messrs. Hill, Grant, and Chambers, are the only instances at all worthy of notice. One Flaherty, a cab-driver, charged his employer, named Ogle, with an assault. He deposed that on last Wednesday night he returned home rather the worse for liquor. He admitted, on cross-examination, that he was unable to unharness the horses and left them; he went up to his loft, lay down, and went to sleep; among the small hours of Thursday morning he was suddenly awoke by the defendant, who took him by the collar, dragged him out of bed, and down the ladder from the loft to the yard; and then kicked him; his face and head were wounded, in consequence of which he had to submit to surgical treatment, and had been unable to attend to business ever since. The Bench sentenced the defendant to pay a penalty of 10s. with 6s. costs, or be imprisoned for three days.—Thomas Russell was charged by John Struthers with having, on last Thursday, unlawfully assaulted and beat him. He deposed that on Thursday, hearing that some fencing belonging to him, near the Sugar Company's premises at Blackwattle Swamp, were being pulled down, he proceeded thither, and found defendant and others engaged, as he had reason to expect he should find them; while speaking to them about the fence, the defendant came up with a stick or paling, struck him therewith on the side, and made a blow at his head, which latter he warded off with his arm. In cross-examination, complainant said he could not swear the defendant was not repairing the fence. Defendant called Richard Rigby, who deposed that he had instructed defendant to repair the fence in question, and gave him authority generally to look after the premises. James Scott deposed that when complainant came on Rigby's premises, defendant was repairing the fence; complainant called defendant by an opprobrious name, and said he would make him suffer for what he was doing; defendant ordered complainant away, that he had no right there; he refused to go, defendant pushed him, and a scuffle ensued. Guilty: to pay a penalty of 40s. and costs, or be imprisoned for seven days.

Tenement Act.—Mr. Cory yesterday made application to the Police Bench for an order for costs against Mr. J. S. Yarnton, agent for a person named Lynch, the owner of certain premises in Market-street. A Mr. King, for whom he (Mr. Cory) appeared, had been served with a notice under the Tenement Act, that application would this day be made for an order to eject King from the premises. In consequence he (Mr. Cory) had been in attendance, but no complainant had come forward. He moved that the cause be entered on the list, and dismissed with costs. Mr. Cory and his client having made affidavit of these facts, the Bench (Mr. Chambers and Mr. Grant) made an order for the payment of £2 2s. for costs, and in default of payment three days' imprisonment.

Water Police Office.—The list of offenders yesterday was confined to drunkards who had been guilty of over indulgence and its consequent improprieties on Easter Monday. They were dealt with in the usual manner.

Twenty Pounds Reward, or a Conditional Pardon.—It having been represented to the government that on the night of the 19th instant, John Bourke, whose description is hereunto annexed, absconded from the service of the Commissioner of Crown Lands for the Liverpool Plains District, taking with him the sum of £37 in notes and specie, His Excellency the Governor-General has directed it to be notified, that a reward of £20 will be paid to any person who may, within six months, give such information as shall lead to the apprehension and conviction of the said John Bourke; or if the person giving such information be a prisoner of the crown, application will be made to Her Majesty for the allowance to him of a conditional pardon. Description: Name, John Bourke; five feet five inches in height; sandy complexion; sandy or light brown hair; about 24 years of age; native of Ireland; a sheep shearer and groom by trade; he is rather full in the face; has a scar on his neck; is a fiddler, which instrument he frequently uses at public houses, and is apparently an easy going steady good natured man; when he absconded he wore a light brown holland coat, breeches and leggings, straw hat; he also had with him a very rough great coat; his face is considerably disfigured from a recent fall from a horse; has been in the employment of Captain Dumaresq, of Scone, for some years, and subsequently in that of Mr. Taylor, of New England.

The Northern Country.—Having, but a few weeks ago, urged, to the best of our ability, the propriety of opening up the northern country, in the vicinity of Port Curtis, to the operations of the grazier, it affords us much satisfaction to learn that this desirable object is likely to be brought about without much further delay. Already Messrs. Leith Hay have proceeded in that direction, for the purpose of forming a station, and other gentlemen are about to follow. The Government, it is understood, contemplates the appointment of a police force for the new district; and one or two of the adventurers who are following Messrs. Hay will probably be shortly included in the Commission of the Peace, in order that there may be no difficulty in forming a Bench when the police are appointed. The settlement of the Port Curtis country will tend very materially to increase the geographical knowledge at present existing, and will probably lead to a great augmentation of the available resources of this part of Australia. Between the line of Leichhardt's route and the sea the northern country is almost entirely unknown. Some superficial examinations have recently been made in that direction, and it appears to have been decided that the embouchure of the river Dawson is to the northward of Port Curtis—probably somewhere about Keppel Bay; but the general knowledge of the country is exceedingly limited. Amongst other beneficial results of the extension of colonization to the northward, the discovery of a continuation of the Australian gold fields in that direction is by no means improbable. The locality of Peak Range, where grazing stations are likely to be first formed, will probably offer considerable encouragement to prospectors.—Moreton Bay Courier.

Desperate Attempt at Escape by the last Batch of Prisoners escorted from Bathurst.—One Man shot.—The prisoners convicted at the late Assizes, 17 in number, left Bathurst on Monday morning in charge of six policemen and proceeded quietly until they arrived at a rugged scrubby piece of ground about four miles from Hartley, where the road on one side is walled up with castellated rocks, and a steep gully intercepts it and makes a deep descent to the right. Here the escort halted to afford the prisoners on the chain an opportunity of taking a little refreshment in the shape of tea, when one of the Turon desperadoes named William Evans, who was convicted with Coyle for robbing William Ross on the Pyramul, having contrived to release himself from the handcuffs, made a rush down the gully at a rapid pace, and was followed by constables Gun, Gomm, and another. Heedless of their repeated warnings to stop, he still sped on his way, and was gradually gaining ground, when Gun levelled his piece at thirty yards' distance and fired, and never did gun fire more effectually. Intending to hit the prisoner's legs and thus disable him, he aimed low, but from the circumstance of the latter being on much lower ground the ball entered his groin and passed out of the thick of the thigh on the opposite side. He survived only a few hours. Simultaneously with this movement another prisoner who had also loosened himself by some means or other, made an effort to bolt, but was captured and again secured by constable M'Donald. Meanwhile the remainder of the prisoners thus left in custody of three policemen, made a rush and showered stones and other missiles upon the heads of their keepers, but were kept at bay at the point of the bayonet until the three who followed Evans had returned. The prisoners now refused to move another yard, and it was found necessary to obtain additional assistance from Bowenfells and Hartley, when by dint of mingled threats and persuasions they were safely lodged in the lock-up at the latter place where they arrived at six o'clock in the evening—an interval of four hours (Evans was shot at two o'clock) having been spent in driving the reprobates four miles, who expended the vocabulary of blackguardism and blasphemy upon their unfortunate custodians. Great credit is due to Gun for his forbearance in not firing at first, and for his precision in the use of his instrument when necessity and duty alike required him to exercise the last desperate remedy of the law.—Judging by all the facts of the case, there appears every probability that the whole affair was preconcerted, and that the escape of Evans was a dodge to draw off a portion of the police in charge and so far weaken the force as to afford the rascals an opportunity of overpowering the remainder; but fortunately their purpose was thwarted by the coolness and courage of the policemen in charge.—Bathurst Free Press.

We are requested to direct particular attention to Mr. Rishworth's sales, as advertised for this day at Mr. Mort's rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock precisely. For full particulars see advertisements.

We beg to remind grocers, wine-merchants, and others, that the important sale of wines, ex Vulture, and damaged sugar, by Mr. Mort, will take place this day, at 11 o'clock, at the stores of Messrs. Lamb, Parbury, and Co., when their punctual attendance is requested.

Purkis and Lambert remind the public of their sale this day at the mart, at 11 o'clock, of camphor wood trunks and drawers, Shanghae silks, Japan baskets, real China toilette set, revolvers, American 25 shot revolver, &c.

City, Suburban, and Country Lands.—Purkis and Lambert remind the public that they sell this day, at their rooms, 451, George-street, at 12 o'clock precisely, an allotment in Wentworth-street, Miller's-point, between E. Hunt and A. Cox's purchases; allotments in Underwood-street, Paddington, of 200 feet depth, near A. Fairfax's residence; and two allotments, containing an acre of land, at Hinton, Hunter's river, near Phoenix-park.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our Correspondent.)

WOLLONGONG.

March 28.—Another awful and melancholy accident, involving the sacrifice of human life, transpired yesterday (Sunday) afternoon. John M'Guire, shoemaker, with an old settler of Charcoal Creek, on Mr. Jenkins' estate, was riding from the Fig Tree towards his own residence, when he turned in, as it is supposed, to water his horse, off the main road, in a lane or narrow track bearing towards the Five-Island Farm. The horse ran away, throwing the unfortunate man against a post. Death was instantaneous. We have not yet heard the result of the post mortem examination, which we presume has been or will be this day held on the body.

The weather continues very favourable for farming operations. We are blessed with a continued succession of refreshing showers, at convenient intervals, during the last fortnight. Yesterday it rained for a considerable portion of the day, and the atmosphere still exhibited a moist appearance. The maize crop, though not abundant, is very luxuriant. We never saw a finer growth. The potatoes, too, have turned out well; but we are sadly inconvenience for want of steamers. It is said the William will be ready in another month. It is hoped so; for, according to the old saw, "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

THE TURON.

(From the Correspondent of the Bathurst Free Press.)

Sofala is very dull; every one is complaining—many of the storekeepers are leaving, and in a short time my humble self will be numbered amongst the departures. But notwithstanding the dullness of Sofala there are various parts of the river which bear the sign of life and activity.

At Peek's Crossing Place there are about 100 at work, some of whom are making 5 or 6 ozs. per day, and the greater portion of them are earning good wages.

At New Zealand Point there are some four or five parties at work, who are averaging about 4 to 5 ozs. daily.

Trooper's Bar (Soldier's Point) is nearly as thickly populated as Mundy Bar. Many of the claims have yielded well. As high as 20 ozs. have been obtained in a day. A claim on this bar, which was sold the other day for £3, yielded its fortunate purchasers 18 ozs. the first afternoon they worked. A pan full of earth contained 2 dwts. of gold. It is somewhat strange that the lower end of the bar, or what may be more properly termed the "reach," and which was treated by the diggers as ground not worth working, has turned out exceedingly rich.

The parties behind Mr. Walford's store continue to do well.

At Golden Point some of the claims have yielded handsomely, whilst others have only turned out wages.

The Mundy Bar miners are as fortunate as ever. Cronen and Spong's claims have yielded 80 ozs. during the week, Johnson's has yielded 12 ozs. daily, and the claims generally are turning out from 3 to 4 ozs. per diem. On the whole, mining operations are decidedly improving. I have not been able to visit Green Wattle Flat, but, from inquiries which I have made, I find that the want of water will greatly impede the diggers on proving its richness. It is situate at the heads of the two Oakeys, out of which a considerable amount of gold has been taken, and there is every reason to believe it will turn out very productive.

I have again to report the robbery of the Mudgee mail by four armed bushrangers on Saturday last. The only trooper left on the Mudgee road immediately started in pursuit of the robbers, when, sorrowful to relate, he was killed by a fall from his horse. Beyond these few particulars, the affair seems at present wrapt in mystery. I may able to inform you more fully in my next.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

THE £5 DRAFTS ON LONDON, PAYABLE ON DEMAND.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

Gentlemen.—I was astounded to read in the leading article of this morning's Herald, your assertion that the advertisement of the Australian Joint Stock Bank, with respect to their drafts of £5 each, on London, payable on demand, being available as cash in any part of Great Britain, "is not strictly true." I maintain, and I speak from no inconsiderable experience of Banking in England, that the statement alluded to is strictly true, and that it is not true, as you state, that "a small commission, (or what I should call an extortionate commission) "of from two to four shillings will be chargeable on them, if they be transmitted to London." But as it is of no use our discussing a point at so great a distance from the United Kingdom, and as you have thought proper to make such statements, unsupported by either facts, evidence, or experience, I propose that we submit it to the proof, by remitting two of these drafts to England, two to Ireland, and two to Scotland, and the proceeds of which to be afterwards devoted to some benevolent purpose, or object of charity. If I am wrong I will pay the £30, and if you are in the wrong you pay the amount, in the mean time that we each pay one half the amount.

As men of honour, I submit that you cannot refuse this proposal, and that the details be arranged by our mutual friends.

I should not have thought of replying to any of the anonymous letters that have appeared in the newspapers but this, I saw clearly that the "shopkeepers" had a far greater knowledge of banking in England than the writer who calls himself "A Merchant." It is a rule amongst all the country bankers, that bills on London are placed to account as cash, on the day they become due, but country bankers' notes, payable at 15 to 20 miles distance, are debited with 15 days' interest, and with a still larger amount of interest, in proportion to the distance of the country town at which they are made payable.

If they were also payable in London, they would be placed to account as cash. These drafts being sola bills, precludes the necessity of first sending them to London, to ascertain if one of the set has been paid or not.

As a director of the Australian Joint Stock Bank, who recommended the above measure, for the labouring classes, wishing to make small remittances to their friends in England, Ireland, or Scotland, and which they could obtain at once, without having to wait (as they had to do at the old banks) several hours for them, and only as a great favour obtain them for so small an amount, I have no hesitation in signing my name to this letter.

I rely upon your giving my letter insertion, in a similar type to that of your leading article, and as I have proposed that our statements shall be tested in a manner that will place the matter beyond the shadow of a doubt, I shall write no more on this subject, but remain,

Your's, &c.,
THOMAS HOLT, Jun.

P.S.—A country banker's commission in the United Kingdom never exceeds ½ per cent., or 6d. on £5, and is the same on Bank of England and all other banker's notes, private bills, or sovereigns. A swindler's or extortioner's commission has no fixed limit, either for changing a sovereign or cashing a bill.

Sydney, March 29.

[Mr. Holt declaring himself to be the person who recommended the publication of the advertisement which has led to this discussion, we give insertion to his letter, although the correspondence has occupied more space than the subject deserves. We find that the general impression in mercantile circles is that there will, in all cases, be a small charge, be it commission or discount, charged, if these bills are cashed out of London. A very few months will decide the question, and the proposal which Mr. Holt makes will in no ways advance the time when that information will reach the colony. The manner in which Mr. Holt puts forward his proposal shows that he is no mean proficient in the use of "bunkum," but it is altogether beside the question.—Eds.]

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CUMBERLAND BOROUGHS.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your very flattering invitation requesting me to allow myself to be placed in nomination as a Candidate to represent you in the Legislative Council, I beg to say that I thank you for the compliment which you are pleased to express as regards my former career in the Council, and, although at some inconvenience to myself in the management of my own private affairs, yet I feel in duty bound to place my humble abilities at your service. If you succeed in returning me as your Representative, I trust I shall not fail in my endeavours to discharge those high and important duties with diligence and faithfulness.

I have the honour to remain,
Gentlemen,
Yours, very respectfully,
WM. BOWMAN.

WATCHES—WATCHES—WATCHES.

MITCHELL AND TELSON, Watchmakers and Jewellers, 297, Pitt-street, beg to inform their friends and the public they have received a very superior lot of Hunting and Open Face Lever Watches, from one of the best London Houses, Ladies' fashionable Gold Watches, extra finished, together with a beautiful assortment of London-made Jewellery, of the most modern designs, which they offer to the public at very reduced prices.

Also, a few superior made eight day Bar and Office Clocks, in rosewood and mahogany cases.

A written guarantee for the due performance of each watch or clock will be given for two years.

M. and T. feel much pleasure in stating that they have made arrangements with a Watchmaker lately arrived, from one of the first houses in the metropolis, which will enable them to execute the repairs of Watches, Clocks, Musical Boxes, &c., with punctuality, and to the satisfaction of their numerous patrons. 10218

COFFEY, HILL, AND CO., Produce Brokers, and General Commission Merchants, Melbourne, are prepared to receive and make liberal cash advances on all kinds of produce consigned to them, and will provide store room for one week free of charge. To avoid delay, keep down charges and do the best for perishable goods,—they will hold weekly auction sales at their spacious and convenient stores on the wharf, so that shippers may rely on obtaining the best prices and receiving their account sales with the utmost promptitude. Melbourne, February 5. 531

GOULBURN STORES, QUEANBEYAN.

ABRAHAM LEVY, several years manager for Messrs. Benjamin and Moses, at the above Stores, begs to acquaint his friends and the public of Queanbeyan and surrounding district, that he intends shortly re-opening the above premises on his own account with an entire New Stock of seasonable Goods, and hopes to receive a share of the patronage so liberally bestowed on his predecessors. 7669

YORK-STREET BAZAAR,
Opposite Entwisle's Hotel, York-street.

MESSRS. HOPKINS AND TOTHILL, Auctioneers, beg to announce that they have opened the above establishment for the reception of horses for sale, by auction and privately; they will hold weekly sales, and trust, by unremitting attention to business, to share a portion of the public patronage.

JUST RECEIVED, five Bales containing 80 pieces of GERMAN STOUT DAMASK, for hanging walls, in lieu of paper, particularly well adapted for wood houses, tents, and saloons; much used through the continent; for elegance, warmth, comfort, and economy, strongly recommended. It has the advantage over paper of being removable, easily adapted for any other room, thus affording a tenant the comfort, without sinking cost of papering on his landlord's house, which is often a reason for the rent to be raised, or notice to quit. To be seen at the Warerooms and Stores.

BROUGHTON HOUSE,

A most desirable and delightfully situated Family Residence, situated on the Balmain Road, and overlooking the waters of Iron Cove Bay.

MR. EDWARD SALAMON has received instructions from George King, Esq., to sell by auction, at his Rooms, George-street, on MONDAY, April 4, at 11 o'clock,

All that excellent and desirable FAMILY RESIDENCE, situate on the Balmain Road, about 5 miles distant from Sydney by the Parramatta Road, and about 2½ miles from Balmain, and known as BROUGHTON HOUSE.

It is built of brick, stuccoed and slated, with capacious front verandah, and consists of—Ground Floor, flagged entrance hall; drawing-room, 23 feet by 17 feet 4 inches, communicating by folding doors with a dining-room, 22 x 17 4, both handsomely corniced, and forming, when opened, a room 45 feet in length; breakfast-room, 16 6 x 12 2, and another room of similar size; pantry, kitchen, and scullery. The kitchen is replete with all necessary conveniences, as range, oven, large copper boiler &c.: there is also a large brick oven adjoining the scullery. Upper Story—Five bedrooms. Basement Floor, about 45 x 17, is flagged throughout, and contains laundry, dairy, store-room, and wine cellar. The Out-Offices consist of brick-built two-stalled stable and coach-house, cow-shed, &c. There is a plentiful supply of pure water from a spring.

The property comprises about 3 ACRES of LAND; one of which is laid out in Garden and Orchard, and the remainder in Paddocks.

The house is delightfully situated, overlooking the waters of Iron Cove Bay; is accessible from Johnson's Bay, and is distant about 200 yards from the wharf; and as a complete family residence, or school, it would be difficult to select a more eligible property,—and the distance can be materially lessened by crossing to Balmain, from which it is merely an agreeable walk of 2½ miles.

For further particulars, and cards to view, apply at the office of the auctioneer where a plan of the property may be inspected

Athlone-place, Parramatta-street. FOUR STONE COTTAGES AND ONE WEATHERBOARD BUILDING,

In Five Lots, for Unreserved Sale.
To Capitalists or Parties in Search of a Snug Residence in the Centre of the City.

MR. ROBERT MURIEL has received instructions from Mr. Isaac Faulchon, to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, No. 453, George-street, on MONDAY next, the 4th April, at 11 o'clock precisely,

Four well-built stone cottages, and one weatherboard building, in Athlone-place, Parramatta-street

Lot 1—Corner house, two story, with frontage to Athlone-place ——— street, is well built of stone, and suitable for a shop or private dwelling; back yard securely fenced

Lot 2, 3, and 4—Three stone cottages, also well built, two story, with yards securely fenced

Lot 5—Weatherboard building, in capital repair, with yard and side entrance.

☞ The above are all let to first-rate (weekly) paying tenants, and produce a splendid rental. The great dearth of suitable houses for parties with moderate incomes is being very seriously felt, owing to the daily increase to our population; the scarcity of mechanics and the unprecedented high price of all materials render building next to an impossibility; therefore it must be obvious to intending purchasers that an opportunity like the above, for securing so good a paying investment, should not be lost sight of, more especially in times like the present.

WEDNESDAY, 30th March.

VALUABLE LAND, in a delightful spot, at Paddington, in the rear of Mr. A. Fairfax's residence, near the South Head and Point Piper Roads.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT have been favoured with instructions to dispose of two choice allotments in the above beautiful locality, occupying some of the highest land between the South Head Road and the Harbour, and commanding a splendid view of the noble scenery, which extends from the Heads to the City, as well as beyond Cook's River,—in fact offering an unrivalled building site for a family residence,—at their Rooms, 451, George-street, THIS DAY, Wednesday, 30th, at 12 o'clock precisely,

The Allotments have each 20 feet frontage to Underwood-street, by 200 feet depth, and are close to the residences of Mr. William Perry, Mr. A. Fairfax, Mr. M'Donald, and others—in one of the most favoured spots to be found near the metropolis, and proverbial for its healthfulness.

⁂ The omnibus runs to within a few yards of this property.

Terms—One-half cash deposit, the residue by approved bills at 3 and 6 months, dated from day of sale, and bearing 6 per cent. interest.

☞ A plan on view at the Auction Rooms.

Terms, cash. 10222

Wednesday, 30th March. VALUABLE ALLOTMENT IN WENTWORTH STREET, MILLER'S POINT.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT will sell by auction, at their Rooms, 451, George-street, THIS DAY, Wednesday, 30th instant, at 12 o'clock precisely,

An allotment on the west side of Wentworth-street, having 22 feet frontage thereto, by a depth of 61 feet on the north, and of 60 feet on the south side, being the original lot 13, sold by F. W. Unwin in February, 1834, and lying between Andrew Cox and Edward Hunt's purchases. The above land is only a few yards distant from Darling Harbour, and from its contiguity to the various wharves at Miller's Point is in a highly valuable position; the difficulty of obtaining land in that quarter at any price should recommend it to the notice of the small capitalist and judicious speculator.

☞ A plan on view at the auction room.

⁂ Terms—One-fourth cash deposit, the residue by approved bill at three months' date from day of sale, and bearing 6 per cent. interest. 8752

WEDNESDAY, 30th instant.

TWO VALUABLE ALLOTMENTS, at Hinton, Hunter's River, containing an Acre (less one perch) of excellent land, on the banks of the Hunter, to which they have 200 feet frontage by upwards of 224 feet depth, and 184 frontage to a reserved road; lying between Chapman's purchases; being a part of Dillon's Grant, near the junction of the Paterson and the Hunter rivers, and the beautiful estate known as PHŒNIX PARK.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT will sell the above choice property, at their Rooms, 451, George-street, THIS DAY, Wednesday, 30th instant, at 12 o'clock precisely.

☞ The above Land being situated in the midst of a large agricultural district, on the CHIEF RIVER of the colony, on which an immense trade is doing, and with the certainty of a mighty increase, the auctioneers deem it unnecessary to enter into a lengthy panegyric of its merits. It is described in the Deeds of 1846, as:—

"All that piece or parcel of land, containing one hundred and fifty-nine rods or thereabouts, situate, lying, and being on the north bank of the river Hunter, in the township of Hinton, in the parish of Butterwick, in the county of Durham, and colony of New South Wales; bounded on the East by a line dividing it from land lately purchased by one William Henry Chapman, bearing north 227 feet, commencing from the river Hunter; on the North by a reserved line of road bearing west 181 feet; on the West by a line dividing it from other land of the said William Henry Chapman, bearing south 224 feet to the said river Hunter; and on the South by that river, 00 feet to the said several measurements—little more or less. Being allotments No. 15 and 16, and part of 600 acres granted by the Crown to Robert Coram Dillon, on 30th June, 1823."

Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit; the residue by approved bill at three months, dated from day of sale, and bearing six per cent. interest.

Title unexceptionable. 8509

A Farm, containing 100 acres, and 8 perches, adjoining Mr. George Forbes' 1280 acres, and Mr. J. Atkinson's 640 acres.

LOT 2

Contains 286 acres and 32 perches, adjoins lot 1, and the farms abovementioned.

LOT 3.

This Farm, situate south of the preceding lot, contains 73 acres, 2 roods, and 1 perch, adjoining the properties of Messrs. Parrott and Quinnell.

LOT 4

Comprises 35 acres, 2 roods, 31 perches. This Farm adjoins the properties of Messrs. Parrott and Quinnell, and Mr. G. Forbes' 2000 acres.

The sale of the above valuable Farms, in the fertile district of the Hunter, presents a favourable opportunity to those interested in agricultural pursuits, and wishing to obtain a really good Farm, for occupation or investment. They are distant but three or four miles from the town of Muswellbrook, and being situate close to the River, great facilities are thus afforded to settlers getting their produce to the market towns on its banks.

10195 T. S. MORT, Auctioneer.

CAPITAL ALLOTMENTS, AT O'CONNELL TOWN, ON THE CAMPERDOWN ESTATE.

MR. MORT has been instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, on FRIDAY, 1st April, at 11 o'clock,

Six allotments of land, situate at O'Connell Town, in the parish of Petersham, being allotments 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13 of lot 19 of O'Connell Town.

Each allotment has a frontage to Egan-street of 26 feet, and an uniform depth of 77 feet 6 inches, abutting upon a reserved lane 6 feet wide.

Allotment No. 8 is a corner allotment, having a reserved lane running down the whole extent of its depth.

⁂ The desirable position of this land, in a locality where property is daily increasing in value, from its close proximity to the metropolis, renders it one of the best building sites in that neighbourhood.

They will positively be sold; and those anxious for a good spot to run up a dwelling, unrestricted by the Building Act, should take advantage of the chance now afforded.

Plan may be seen at the Rooms.

Terms at sale. [illegible]

COTTAGE AND LAND AT FIVE DOCK.

MR. MORT is instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 1st April, at 11 o'clock,

A good cottage, situate at the head of the Bay at Five Dock, together with a paddock of 2 acres, and a small orchard of choice fruit trees.

THE COTTAGE

contans 2 rooms, with a skillion kitchen in the rear. The outhouses comprise the usual offices and a stable, bee-house, &c.

There is a capital well of water on the premises, and about 12,000 bricks, or thereabouts, sufficient wherewith to build another or extend the present cottage.

THE PADDOCK

contains 2 acres 1 rood and 24 perches; is entirely fenced on three sides by a good fence, and at the extremity is bounded by the Bay.

THE ORCHARD

in which the cottage is built is likewise fenced round and has a large frontage to a reserved road, leading to Bedlam Ferry.

It contains a considerable number of all in full bearing, comprising apricots, plums, quinces, peaches, oranges, loquats, apples, pears, pomegranates, &c., &c., &c.

☞ This property, so delightfully situate in so healthful a neighbourhood, and possessing so many qualifications in itself necessary to make it valuable, and being removed so short a distance from the metropolis, presents itself as an eligible chance to secure a really good holding. 9293

SMALL FARM AT FIVE DOCK.

MR. MORT is instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 1st April, at 11 o'clock,

A small FARM, containing about 8 acres, situate and being part of the Five Dock Farm, in the district of York-place.

This portion being described in the deeds as follows:—

"All that piece or parcel of land, containing by admeasurement eight acres, situate, lying, and being, in the district of York-place, near Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, bounded on the north-east by Millar-street, of Bourke Town, commencing at Mary-street, bearing east forty-two degrees south sixteen chains and eighteen links to Alice-street; on the south-east by that street, bearing south forty-two degrees west, four chains and eighty-one links to the portion now reserved by George Miller; on the south-west by that portion bearing west forty-two degrees north, sixteen chains and fifty links to Mary-street; and on the north-west by that street, bearing north thirty-nine degrees east, four chains and eighty-one links to the commencing point."

The sale of this eligible Farm, so contiguous to Sydney, deserves the particular notice of market gardeners and others, looking to the supply of Sydney with vegetables or dairy produce.

An industrious couple will find this an eligible investment.

THE CHEETAH, BRIGANTINE,

120 Tons new measurement, and 130 Tons old measurement.

MR. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, 6th April, at 11 o'clock,

The fast-sailing brigantine Cheetah, 120 tons new measurement, and 130 tons old measurement.

She was built at Cork in 1839 of the very best materials, expressly for her present owners; is copper-fastened and sheathed with heavy Muntz patent metal. To a large carrying capacity she combines the great advantages of speed and dryness, and has brought a large cargo of fish from Labrador, which she is now landing in excellent condition.

She is well found in sails and all other requisites, and is ready to be sent to sea at a day's notice.

Inventories and further particulars may be obtained in a few days, on application to the auctioneer.

29 ACRES LAND AT NORTH SHORE.

By order of the Executors of Captain Wright, of Bengalla, deceased.

MR. MORT has been instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, April 29th, at 11 o'clock.

All that piece or parcel of Land, containing by admeasurement twenty-nine acres, be the same more or less, situate in the county of Cumberland, parish of Willoughby, near Gore Creek, bounded on the south by the northern boundary of Alexander Berry's five acres, bearing west 12 chains, on the west by a road which divides it from James Harlam's sixty acres, on the north by a line, distant 18 chains seventy-eight links; due north from and parallel to the south boundary, and bearing east 18 chains, and on the east by a creek to the north-east corner of Alexander Berry's five acres aforesaid.

☞ This property has the main road leading from Gore's Wharf, Ball's Head Bay, as one boundary, and Gore's Creek as another.

The views are very splendid from the land. There is a good amount of timber upon it, and the distance from Sydney is very trifling.

As a site for a residence, with plenty of land for gardens and grass, or as a purchase for sale in small lots at a future day, this property is especially worthy of attention.

Terms at sale.—Title first-rate. 7228
